AMENDED ORDER OF PUBLICATION

It appearing from the Affidavit of Petitioners' counsel that some of the Respondents in this cause are unknown, and others may be known to exist, but their names or their whereabouts are unknown, and that these unknowns cannot be determined by diligent inquiry, so that ordinary service of process can be accomplished; and that further, this lawsuit seeks to declare void or inapplicable certain restrictions imposed by Harriett Lappin in a 1953 Deed to the Trustees of the Monteagle Church of Christ prescribing certain conditions on church services to be conducted in the church building to be constructed on the property which is the subject of said Deed and prescribing further that title to said property, in case of disagreement be vested in those who most rigidly adhere to the New Testament; this lawsuit being necessitated by the said church moving to a new location and selling the property which is the subject of the 1953 Deed. It is therefore ORDERED that the Respondents, to include any unknown heirs of Harriett L. Lappin and any other persons having an interest in enforcing worship restrictions as set forth in the 1953 Deed from Harriett L. Natural Gas Safety Information

There's a reason our gas smells like rotten eggs.

We could have made Natural Gas smell like anything: like chocolate chip cookies or apple pie! But we gave it a rotten egg odor. That way, you know when something's not right. Smell rotten eggs? Any odor of natural gas inside your home or business may indicate a leak. If you smell rotten eggs, leave the area and CALL US. We'll come and make sure everything's safe.

CALL BEFORE YOU DIG - IT'S THE LAW

As a property or business owner, you (or your contractor) are required by law to notify underground utilities at least three business days (72 hrs) in advance BEFORE YOU DIG ON YOUR PROPERTY. Call the Tennessee One Call Center (811) to have underground gas lines (and other participating utilities' lines) located at no charge to you.

CARBON MONOXIDE

Natural Gas is nontoxic and is the cleanest-burning fossil fuel available. Under normal operating conditions it burns cleanly, producing heat, carbon dioxide and water vapor. If equipment has a mechanical problem that causes the Natural Gas to burn improperly, it could produce carbon monoxide. CO is an odorless, poisonous and potentially fatal gas. People who feel out of breath, dizzy, nauseous and have headaches or feel sleepy, tired, and/ or are more drowsy than normal -combined with any other symptoms - could be suffering from carbon monoxide poisoning.

REMEDY: Get fresh air right away. Then call the Dunlap Natural Gas to have your equipment inspected.
